

Providing clarity and focus for your organisation

Organisational planning, strategy and tactical decision-making are too often founded upon blurred understanding and guesswork. This is because many companies lack the quality data required to bring issues into sharp focus.

MIS Business Intelligence (BI) gives you a completely fresh outlook on corporate performance by combining and analysing information to provide a crystal clear view. MIS DecisionWare transforms your data into knowledge, helping you to see through complex relationships and understand the "big picture".

MIS' unique approach allows you to either build or buy BI solutions that can be quickly integrated into the open source information systems within your organisation. Standard MIS DecisionWare applications include Enterprise Planning, Financial Consolidation, Risk Management and Subsidiary Management.

The first step is for us to understand your issues. Castle does this by working with you to produce a Solution Planning Study. This determines the objectives by which the solution will be measured; including the functionality to be delivered, the proposed phases of the project, the expected return on investment, a risk assessment analysis of the project, a budgetary estimate and a proof of concept.
